Abstract:

Expert talk "Lead by example-Ways to be successful leader" was organized by ASOIT Computer Dept under CSI Chapter. There's an old saying about the difference between a manager and a leader: "Managers do things right. Leaders do the right things." As a leader, part of your job is to inspire the people around you to push themselves – and, in turn, the organization – to greatness. To do this, one must show the way by doing it himself/herself leading teams and managing successful projects
